The conference is jointly organized by IIM Bangalore's Centre for Corporate Governance and Citizenship (CCGC), INDIA and Florida International University College of Business (FIU Business), USA.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE:

Recognizing the complexity of real world corporate governance in the changing international business environment brings into sharp focus the role and contribution of Boards.

The protectionism creeping into markets and technology trends such as big data, cloud computing, mobility, and social media are giving rise to new challenges. Boards are also beginning to take a strategic view of how macroeconomic trends as well as technology trends are shaping their companies' future. More Boards than ever before are asking questions that ensure executives focus on the right issues.

Some Boards are taking responsibility for the big picture by engaging in forward-looking conversations about how changes in global economy and technology affect the industry and what the implications are for their companies.

Given the rapid pace of change, such big-picture discussions should take place more frequently if necessary. The governance trade-off, between stability and change, depends on the level of disruption in a particular industry and company.

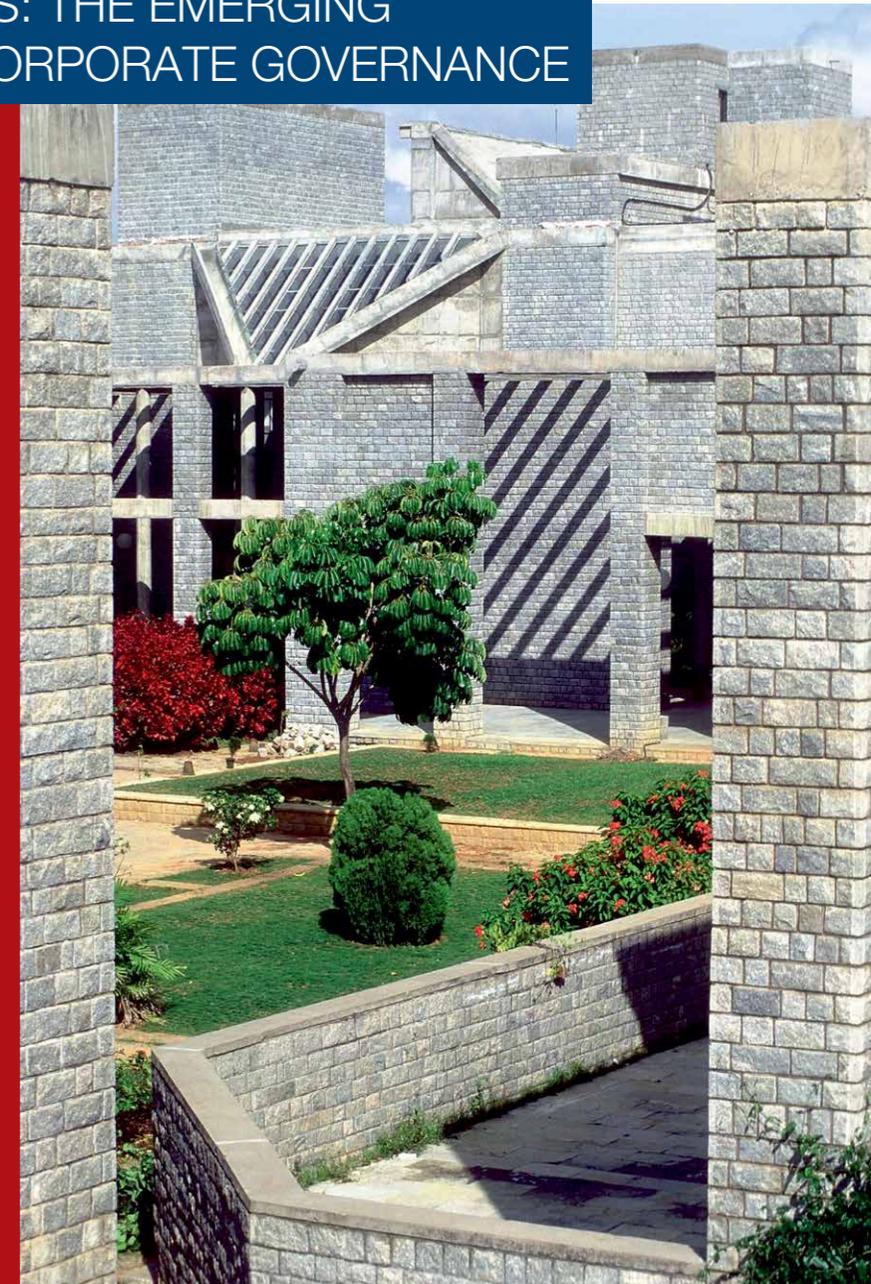

India is one of the fastest growing economies and has western style legal systems and well-developed capital markets that are integrated with global systems. Regulators in India have been aggressively developing legal frameworks to handle complex issues in the area of corporate governance. This conference aims to provide a unique platform where academics, practitioners, corporate executives and regulators can get together to understand the intricacies of corporate governance practices, regulations and their costs and benefits to various stakeholders in India and USA. The conference will allow US academics and other global nations' participants as well as investors to get a first-hand perspective on corporate governance practices, rules, regulations and challenges from various parts of the world. It will be an opportunity for the
